INDIANA GOVERNOR FACED WITH REQUEST MARTIAL LAW BUT REFUSES ACT

YOUNGSTOWN. O., June 28.—Fresh fears of violence shook the strike front today. this time in Indiana.

Troops were requested at East Chicago. The mayor feared trouble if two steel companies attempted to reoper their long closed mills.
But Governor M. Clifford Townsend, the fourth governor on the seven-state strike front to be faced with a call for soldiers, told the mayor he would "not place
East Chicago under martial law unless unforeseen disturbances occur."

During the 33 days of strike for signed bargaining contracts, national guardsmen have been used in Michigan and in Ohio; and in Pennsylvana there has been martial law.

Governor Townsend predicted peaceful settlement of the Indiana strike affecting 22,000 steel workers in the Calumet area "within 24 hours" while CIO leaders declared they would resist with force any attempt to reopen plants of the Inland Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube companies. Governor Townsend

Governor Townsend said he expected to have ready today a plan acceptable to all sides in the dispute providing for return of steel workers to their jobs under a temporary truce.

Governor Davey replied to charges of CIO leaders that by use of troops he was "depriving the strikers of their legal rights" and had "committed political suicide."

Said the governor:

"Neither the state troops nor local officials have any authority to deprive strikers of their rights, that is, peaceful picketing and persuasion, freedom of speech, or peaceful assemblage. We shall see that nothing of this kind happens.

MISS ELISE MILLER BECAME BRIDE OF JAY ALBERT DAVIS IN SUNDAY EVENING CEREMONY

Culminating a round of lovely man, Eddie Wasserman, Dr. and social functions, Miss Elise Miller, daughter of M. M. Miller and the late Mrs. Miller, and granddaughter of Simon Daniels, became the bride of Jay Albert Davis of Longview, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Frenkel, Mr. Bill Mohilmer, Mr. G. E. Martin, Miss Embed. Mr. and Mrs. I. E. H. Davis of Tyler, formerly of this city, on Sunday, June 27, at 8 o'clock in the evening, at Temple Beth-El, in one of the largest and most elegant weddings of the season.

The beautiful ring ceremony was read impressively by Rabbi David Lefkowitz, Jr., of Dallas, lifelong friend of both the bride and groom.

The entire wall at the back of the altar was hung with garlands of Southern smilax, in a pyramid arrangement above the heavy white satin, gold-trimmed curtains, that conceal the ark. The ledge above the curtains was banked with white peonies, carnations and peonies, and centered with a large bow of white maline. White candles burned in floor stapdards before the screen of greenery, and white, wrought iron prior vases held lovely white peonies. The rostrum was outlined in ferns and palms and sevenbranch electric candelabra on either end, added to the beauty and effectiveness of the decorations.

The center aisle was laid in way to the altar was outlined in white satin ribbon with bows of the ribbon caught to the pews with clusters of white gladioli.

Wedding Music.

Fifteen minutes preceding the ceremony, Mrs. M. S. Dockum gave an organ recital of wedding music, and at the appointed hour accompanied Mrs. Finis Farr, who played "Liebstraum" as a violin solo, and Mrs. Joel Trimble, who sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Dockum played Lohengrin's processional, Mendelssohn's recessional, and "Sweet Evening Star" from "Tanhauser," softly as the couple pledged their troth.

The bride, given in mauriage by her father, was exquisite in a white Barona lace gown over satin, after Mainbocher, made with an Elizabethan standing collar and long, fitted sleeves topped by shoulder fullness. Many tiny buttons extended from the back of the collar to the skirt fullness, which began at the knees and flared into a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion hung gracefully from a coronet of orange blossoms; white satin sandals completed her attire. Miss Miller's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls which belonged to her mother, and she carried a white prayer book, an heirloom in the family of the bridegroom, showered with orchids and lilies of the valley.

GIANTS PULL INTO VIRTUAL TIE FOR TOP WHEN DODG-ERS DOWN CUBS

By SID FEDER

You couldn't blame major league magnates if they peeked under second base or back of the scoreboard or some such place today in the hope of digging up a rivalry to match the Carl Hubbell-Dizzy Dean duel. For, win, lose or draw between the Giants southpaw ace and the Cardinals' great popper-offer, any time those two go to the post against each other, they pack 'em

What was more interesting to the front offices, was the fact that 38,719 fans made it look like world series day in Sportsman's Park for the battle.

The crowd made it more than 120,000 who have turned out for the three Dean-Hubbell clashes this year.

Yesterday's win, in which he allowed only six hits, fanned six and did not walk a man, compared to the 10 hits Dean gave up, was his second straight. Achieved with the aid of two homers by Mel Ott, the win sent the Giants and Cards into a virtual tie for second place in the National league.

Women's Club House
Committee in Session

Saturday Morning
The Women's Club house committee of which Mrs. W. Kirk Steele is chairman, met Saturday morning with Mrs. Steele for the purpose of hearing reports from the various chairmen of committees, and from the presidents of each of the clubs as to the reaction of their members on the location under consideration. Twenty women were present, and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Bell White, who was necessarily delayed, the minutes of the last meeting were recalled by Mrs. Steele, after calling the meeting to order.

After the various committee reports had been given, Mrs. steele called upon each president or representative of the women's clubs, and it was clearly shown that every club was in favor of having a club house and would heartily co-operate in every way to secure one.

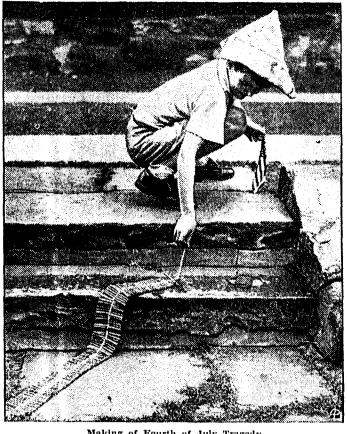

When put to a vote, the motion that the clubs were definitely in favor of a club house was gone of the clubs were definitely in the matches.
